10. GENERAL PROVISIONS

10.1. Amendments. No amendment to the terms and conditions of either this Agreement or the SOW is valid and binding on the Parties hereto unless made in writing and signed by an authorized representative of each of the Parties.

10.2. Severability. If any provision of this Agreement is determined to be invalid, illegal, or otherwise unenforceable, then the remaining provisions of this Agreement remain in full force and effect. In such event, the Parties will negotiate in good faith so as to replace each invalid, illegal, or unenforceable provision with a valid, legal, and enforceable provision that will, in effect, from an economic viewpoint, most nearly and fairly approach the effect of the invalid, illegal, or unenforceable provision and the intent of the Parties in entering into this Agreement.

10.3. Survival. The provisions of Articles 5, 6, 8, and 9 survive the termination of this Agreement.

10.4. Waiver. No failure or delay in exercising any right or remedy or requiring the satisfaction of any condition under this Agreement, and no course of dealing between the Parties, operates as a waiver or estoppel of any right, remedy, or condition. No provision in this Agreement may be waived, except pursuant to a writing executed by the Party against whom the waiver is sought to be enforced. A waiver made in writing on one occasion is effective only in that instance and only for the purpose that it is given and is not to be construed as a waiver on any future occasion or against any other person. No single or partial exercise of any right or remedy under this Agreement precludes the simultaneous or subsequent exercise of any other right or remedy.

10.5. No Third Party Beneficiaries. Nothing contained in this Agreement confers or is intended to confer upon any person other than the Parties any rights or remedies under this Agreement.

10.6. Non-Exclusive Remedies. The rights and remedies set forth in this Agreement are not intended to be exhaustive and the exercise by either Party of any right or remedy does not preclude the exercise of any other rights or remedies that may now or subsequently exist in law, in equity, by statute, or otherwise.

10.7. Notices. All notices, requests, consents, and other communications are deemed to have been properly given when communicated in writing and sent through one of the following methods of delivery: (a) personal delivery; (b) certified first class mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested; (c) facsimile transmission with confirmation copy by certified mail, return receipt requested; or (d) nationally recognized overnight courier, with all fees prepaid. A Party giving a notice shall address the notice to the appropriate person at the receiving Party at the address listed below or to a substitute addressee or address designated by the receiving Party under this Agreement. A notice is only effective if the Party giving notice complies with the requirements of this Section and is effective upon the date sent with the exception of 10.7(b) and 10.7(d), which are effective 3 days after the date sent.

The signatures of both Parties need not appear on the same counterpart, and delivery of an executed counterpart signature page by facsimile or electronic transmission is as effective as executing and delivering this Agreement in the presence of the other Party.

10.12. Headings. Headings are included for convenience and are not intended to alter or amend the contents of the provisions.

Dear Mr. Davies:

This Agreement is between Oxygen Finance Americas, Inc. ("Client") and Park Strategies, LLC ("Consultant") and relates to consulting services rendered by Consultant as an advisor to Client with respect to strategic planning, business development, government affairs, and guidance and advice with respect to compliance with all applicable lobbying laws, rules and regulations. Specifically, Consultant shall assist Client in its efforts to identify potential government customers for Client's accounts payables platform in the State of New York. Consultant will help facilitate introductory meetings between Client and potential customers, coordinate follow-up activities, and assist Client with planning and strategy. Consultant shall provide timely and complete advice to Client, in connection with the activities described in this Agreement, regarding all necessary or advisable registrations, filings and payments to any and all New York State governmental entities, including, but not limited to, semi-annual and annual client reports.

The term of this Agreement shall commence as of the date that it is fully executed and will continue for twelve (12) months; provided however, Client shall have the right, in its sole discretion, to terminate this Agreement upon ninety (90) days notice to Consultant.

In consideration of such aforementioned consulting services to be rendered, Client shall pay to Consultant a fee of $10,000 per month during the effective term of this Agreement. Said monthly fee shall be due and payable upon the first day of each month, with the exception of the first monthly fee which is due upon the execution of this Agreement.

The Consultant and the Client acknowledge that some of the services which the Consultant may be requested to furnish under this Agreement could be deemed to be "lobbying activity" as that term is defined under the laws and regulations governing lobbying activity at the local, state, and federal levels. As such, the Client hereby expressly authorizes the Consultant to engage in lobbying activity on the Client's behalf during the effective term of this Agreement and any extension thereof. The Client and the Consultant further acknowledge that they may be required to make and file periodic reports with the entities that regulate lobbying activity, including the New York State Commission on Public Integrity, disclosing the nature of any lobby contacts that Consultant made on behalf of the Client and any compensation received by the Client for lobbying activity. When used in this Agreement, "Confidential Information" means all documents relating to Client, its assets and any other information related to Client or its assets which are provided or otherwise made available for observation or inspection (including electronic access), directly or indirectly to Consultant or any of Consultant's directors, managers, officers, shareholders, members, partners, employees, agents, affiliates, consultants, attorneys, accountants and other advisors or representatives (each a "Recipient Representative" and collectively, the "Recipient Representatives") including, but not limited to, any and all intellectual property in any form and whether registered or unregistered, any and all financial statements, forecasts, projections, business plans, due diligence materials and research results, permits, agreements, service and personnel costs, reports, marketing plans, research and development activities, information pertaining to independent contractors, employees, customers, clients, suppliers and vendors, know-how or other business and technical information, and any and all related notes, analyses, compilations, lists, studies and other works prepared by Recipient or any Recipient Representative that contains or is generated from the foregoing information. All Confidential Information, in whatever form, is and shall remain the property of Client.

Upon receipt, observation or inspection of the Confidential Information, Consultant shall (a) only disclose such Confidential Information to its Recipient Representatives with a need to have access to and knowledge of the Confidential Information solely for the purpose of the provision of services hereunder and not disclose to any other person or entity except with the prior written consent of Client to do so; (b) advise each Recipient Representative who receives, observes or inspects the Confidential Information of the existence and terms of this Agreement and of the obligations of confidentiality and nondisclosure herein and cause each Recipient Representative to comply with this Agreement as if it was a party hereto and be responsible for any breach of this Agreement by all Recipient Representatives; (c) use and require each Recipient Representative to use at least the same degree of care to protect the Confidential Information as is used with its own proprietary information, with the degree of care, in no event, to be less than holding the Confidential Information in strict confidence; and (d) use, and require each Recipient Representative to use, the Confidential Information solely for the purpose of the provision of services hereunder.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, Consultant shall have no obligation to preserve the confidentiality of any Confidential Information, which (a) is or becomes publicly available by other than unauthorized disclosure by Consultant, any Recipient Representative or any third party; or (b) is developed by Consultant or any Recipient Representative wholly independent of any Confidential Information. Further, Consultant may disclose the Confidential Information pursuant to a valid order issued by a court or governmental agency; provided that the Consultant provides Client (i) prior written notice of such obligation, and (ii) the opportunity to oppose such disclosure or obtain a protective order. Notwithstanding any disclosure under the previous sentence, the disclosed Confidential Information shall remain Confidential Information and otherwise be subject to all of the protections under this Agreement.

If Consultant shall be subject to any claim, demand or penalty or become a party to any suit or other judicial or administrative proceeding by reason of any claimed act or omission by Client in connection with the provision of services hereunder, or by reason of any act occurring in connection with the provision of services hereunder, the Client shall indemnify and hold Consultant harmless against all judgments, settlements, penalties and expenses, including reasonable attorneys fees, court costs and other expenses of litigation or administrative proceeding, incurred by or imposed on Consultant in connection with the investigation or defense relating to such claim or litigation or administrative proceeding provided, however, that Client shall have no obligation to indemnify Consultant, and Consultant shall be liable, for any such judgement, settlement, penalty, expense or other loss (including attorneys fees) incurred by reason of Consultant's negligence, willful misconduct or fraud.
